Volume XXXIII 1970

A day, a year, perhaps a life
Was lived, of ecstasy and pain
To those who've known the past with me.
Yet, faces blur and memories cloud
With every passing of an hour,
With every smile that lights a face,
With every shedding of a tear.
Were our few moments treasured dear,
Clutched tightly at our breasts-
Or cast upon a careless wind
And swept away to leave us here?
We cannot linger with the past,
Though friends and loves
Were harboured there
That day is gone. Its thoughts recall,
But destiny's yet unfulfilled . . .

My date lies now with life!

Class Of '69 Earns Honors

Boardwalk and Park Place were centers of activity at the 1969 Junior-Senior Prom, which featured a "Monopoly Game" theme. Two orchestras provided music for the evening: the Chick Erickson Ensemble for the first half, and The Cherry Lace, for the second.

ROTC Salutes Senior Cadets

Cadets and their dates enjoyed an evening of dining and dancing as a prelude to the presentation of promotions at the 52nd annual Military Ball at the Ramada Inn, on April 17, 1969.

Coronation Ceremonies Precede Colorful Parade

Genny O'Keefe, Gwen O'Connell, Bonnie Mayfield, and Kathy Tobin, radiant attendants, take their places in the Homecoming Parade.

Class Of 1969

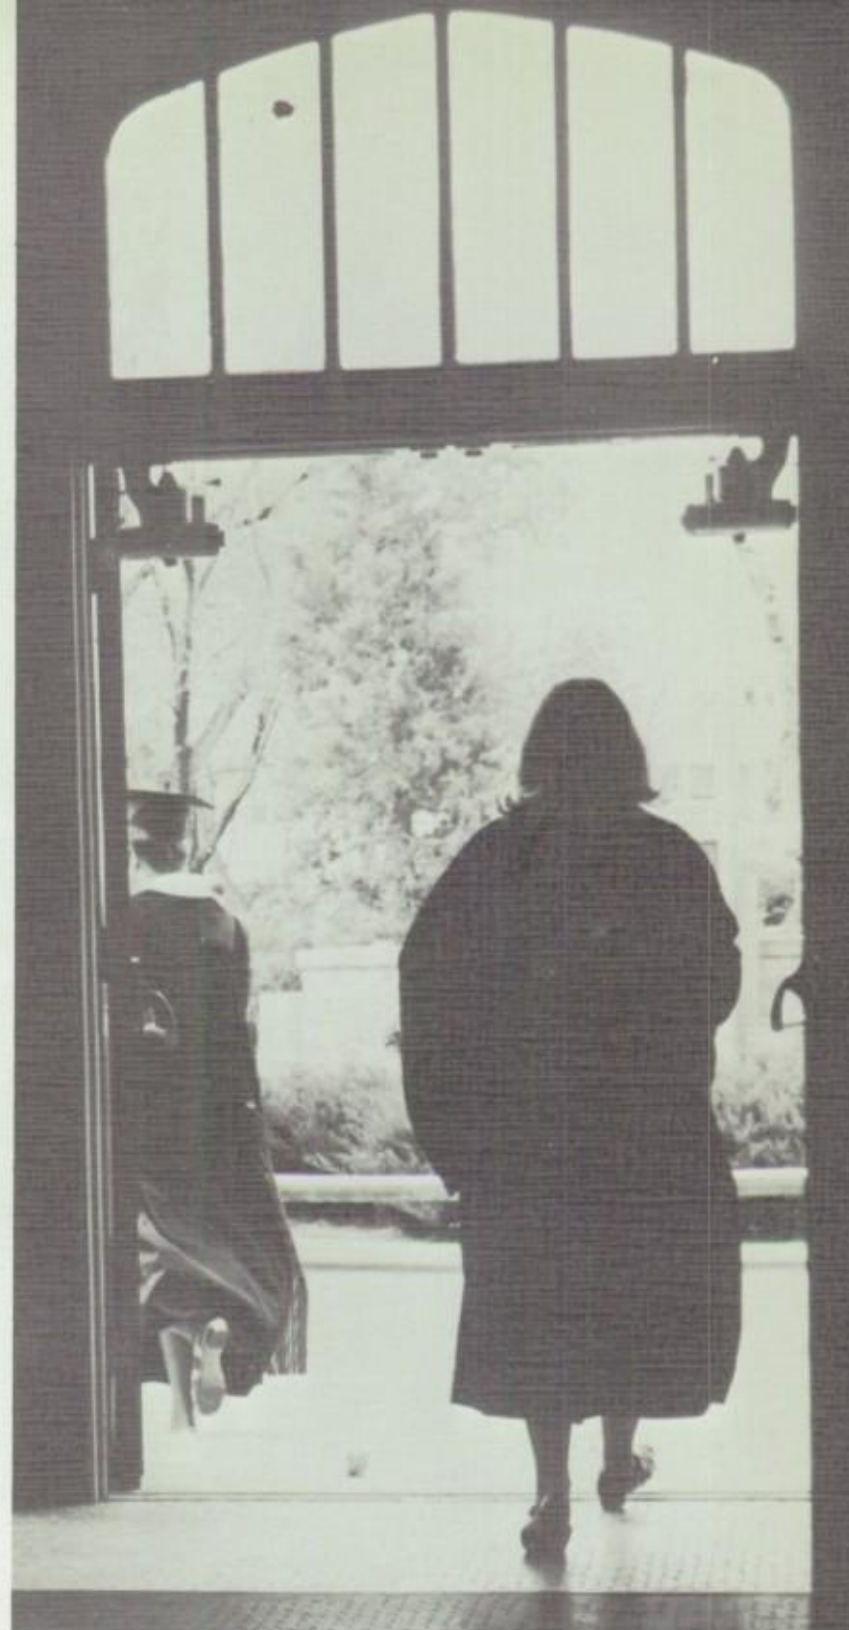

Faces Future Fearlessly

Harry Roberts, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, spoke to the 510 graduates of the Class of 1969. In his address, "Respect Protects Rights," Mr. Roberts stated: "Only by respecting and honoring the rights of others do you protect your own."

The future holds many opportunities for those graduates who show this respect and become involved in human affairs. They will be the builders of our nation economically, politically, and spiritually.

FACULTY

NCHS Salutes You - - -

Miss Gwendolyn Hill

As chairman of the English Department for the past five years, you have initiated many innovations in teaching methods and curricula. Not only have you devoted much time and effort to your department, but you have also been an ardent supporter of the activities of the school, especially the sports programs. As a former sponsor of twenty-one editions of the MUSTANG, you earned many all-state awards, establishing an enviable record of achievement.

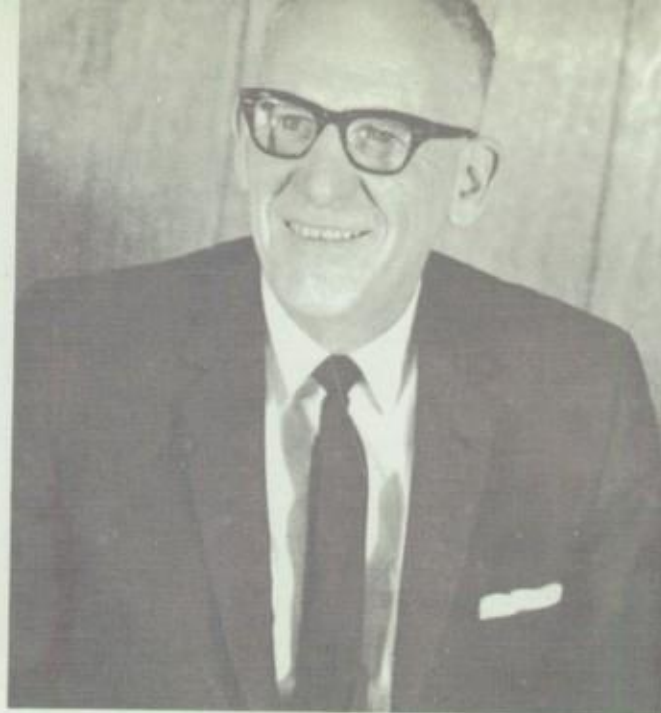

In addition to helping in the preparation of the Wyoming Curriculum Guide for English, you are one of the founders of the Wyoming Association of Teachers of English. Serving as president of WATE, and as a member of various committees for the National Council of Teachers of English, you have gained national recognition.

Your contributions to the honor of NCHS are countless, and your guidance and inspiration will be greatly missed. It is in appreciation for all your acts of kindness and of love, Miss Hill, that we dedicate the 1970 MUSTANG to you.

Guidance Services Aid In Many Ways

Students at NCHS are assigned to the same counselor for their three years in high school. Each counselor works with his students on school problems, personal problems, vocational choices, college or vocational school selections, and the many other problems students face.

Areas beyond individual counseling include administration and interpretation of tests, credit and grade checks, enrollment and class placement, and maintenance of an information center on careers, colleges, trade schools and scholarships.

Social Studies Curriculum Reorganized

With Paul Genetti, the new head of the Social Studies Department, the teachers of the department have re-evaluated and reorganized their schedule of classes to make the curriculum more meaningful and current. The changes for next year include courses ready made for today's youth: sociology, international relations, career development, world affairs, and a social studies seminar. The Department also works with CIVITANS, an organization that pays the way for seven sophomores or juniors to attend a seminar this summer at Denver University. (left) Frances Harris, John Hitt.

Mathematics - - - A Language Of The Universe

In the complex world of tomorrow, more than one language will be necessary for complete understanding. A second language, mathematics, will be essential. Mathematics is a universal language; i.e. a mathematical equation has exactly the same meaning all over the world. Increasingly, the language of mathematics is being "spoken" in a great number of careers such as journalism, psychology, sociology, and engineering. Mathematics is becoming the imperative foreign language of the social sciences. The language of economics is a good example of this. It is the computer that primarily accounts for the mathematisation of academia, though the trend can be traced to the precomputers' excursions into econometries in the 1930's. Many students in the life sciences are required to include a computer course in their curricula. Dr. B. F. Skinner of Harvard, a psychologist, has suggested that all human behavior can ultimately be interpreted in the rigorous language of mathematics.

Business Education Department Adds Computer Bookkeeping

Computer Bookkeeping is a new course in the business curriculum this year. The students learn to run the sorter, key punch, and the 1620 I.B.M. computer along with the 1622 card reader. The class uses SPS, a symbolic business oriented language, although they did study Fortran, a math oriented language, the later part of the year. The Computer Bookkeeping class helped the office run the attendance bulletin this past year as demonstrated below by Mark Dennis and Terri Gaukel. (first row) Robert Adams, Bonnie Alexander, and Keith Ames; (second row) Bruce Anderson, Grant Boyles, Delores Cochran; (third row) Pauline Fusselman, Tom Reinhart.

For those students not planning to attend college or who are interested in developing a skill in practical arts, NCHS offers a variety of courses. Students throng into the Driver's Education Course, and auto mechanics is also popular, as knowing about the repair of vehicles is essential to good driving. Farm courses meet the needs of students in agricultural areas. Courses in electrical skills are also offered.

With more and more people traveling to other lands, a knowledge of foreign languages becomes more important. Through the study of languages, a deeper insight of cultures other than American broadens the students' understanding of the world today. German, Latin, French and Spanish are the courses offered in NCHS.

Miss Hill Introduces Innovations In English Department

"A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops." -- Henry Adams

Miss Hill's influence on the English Department in NCHS will continue for a long time after her retirement this year. She returned from the National Council of Teachers of English in Washington, D.C. with many new ideas that were tried in the classrooms. Through her encouragement, successful results were achieved in teaching poetry and novels. The use of videotaping in the development of original scripts by the students was another of her innovations. Miss Hill revised the existing English Guide for the school and introduced a humanities course into the schedule of classes, but, above all, she inspired confidence and respect in her teachers and her students.

Physical Education And ROTC

In the past years ROTC has been a required subject for all sophomore boys, but in the future military training will become an elective subject. Cadets participate in flag ceremonies, as well as conduct military maneuvers, and their activities are climaxed by The Military Ball and Federal Inspection.

Mrs. Liebert, Cafeteria Manager, Retires

After almost 38 years as cafeteria manager, Mrs. Leone Liebert retires this year. Students and faculty of NCHS will miss her "special" treatment of them. Always willing to make extra "goodies" for banquets or teas, Mrs. Liebert went far beyond the duties of her job to make such affairs memorable.

Mrs. Liebert was honored by the faculty and cafeteria staff with a surprise party on the occasion of her birthday, and later in the spring, she was honored at a tea for which the Home Ec girls and staff made special canapes, cookies, and candies. Shown at left are Mrs. Walters and Mrs. Genetti, co-hostesses, with Mrs. Liebert (center).

Other activities of the council have included work to revise dress codes and support of the Youth Council.

Throughout the school year the Girls' League Council sponsors many activities. In the fall the GLC organizes the Football Ball to honor the team. Christmas, Valentines, orientation, and farewell teas are held for the girls of NCHS. In addition, the GLC, together with the administration, regulates uniform policy. (upper left) Paula Williams serves during one of the many teas. (upper right) GLC sponsor Miss Mary Ann Drew puzzles over a council project. "When I Find Myself In Times Of . . .

Our times have changed greatly in the past three years, and we, too, have changed, in facing new situations, accepting new responsibilities, and receiving new freedoms. Many of our goals have been as new as the new decade and our pride in their accomplishment may well exceed the pride we had when man first walked on the moon. We have known the joy of being number one in the fields of service and scholarship as well as athletics, but we have also known defeat. (right) Peggy Knittel is seen in a time of joy and pride. (below) Dave Kubichek and Joe Muratore find time for thought. (lower right) Dan Perdue finds a time for questioning.

There Will Be An Answer"

"Speaking Words Of Wisdom"

Credit must be given to the faculty and administration for their patience and determination during our three-year tenure. It is due to their industry that we are truly able to speak "words of wisdom" as shown by the polka lessons being given by Carla Hawley and Kathy Sullins (right). Brian Clausen delivers a sermon on his own special brand of wisdom (lower right). Even as juniors, the lollipop girls, Mikie Lorfing, Laura McNicholas, Mar-ian Hufsmith and Debbie Dundas, speak words of wisdom about too much candy and stomach aches (below).

Juniors continue their tradition by taking first place again this year with their float "Mustangs are Soup-er."

Juniors Delight Audiences With Fast-Paced Follies

Packed with comedy, exuberant songs and dances, as well as glamorous costumes, the 42nd annual Junior Follies played to standing-room-only audiences for three performances on November 20, 21, and 22, 1969. Two hundred members of the Class of 1971 took a musical tour of Europe as they presented "Brussels, Bustles, and Beaux," directed by John F. Welsh.

Portraying the months of the year, showgirls paraded in true Ziegfeld fashion. Shown above are Pam Williams, Tina Calkins, Sue Whiston, Debbie Brannan, and Terri Gaukel. Jerry Anderson and Mary Stransky (upper right) portrayed Walter and June, who found romance on the zany tour. A peppy singing and dancing group (right) added zest to several of the show's production numbers. On the next page, Ann Kolasinski appears as Mimi Paragon, the exasperated tour guide. Pat Keefe and Cindy VanDeventer (top right) provided comic situations as they traveled to glamorous European capitals. Performing in a colorful polka number were Donna Moore, Rick Kautz, Rob Ellett, and Teresa Banta.

ACTIVITIES

Scholarship And Leadership

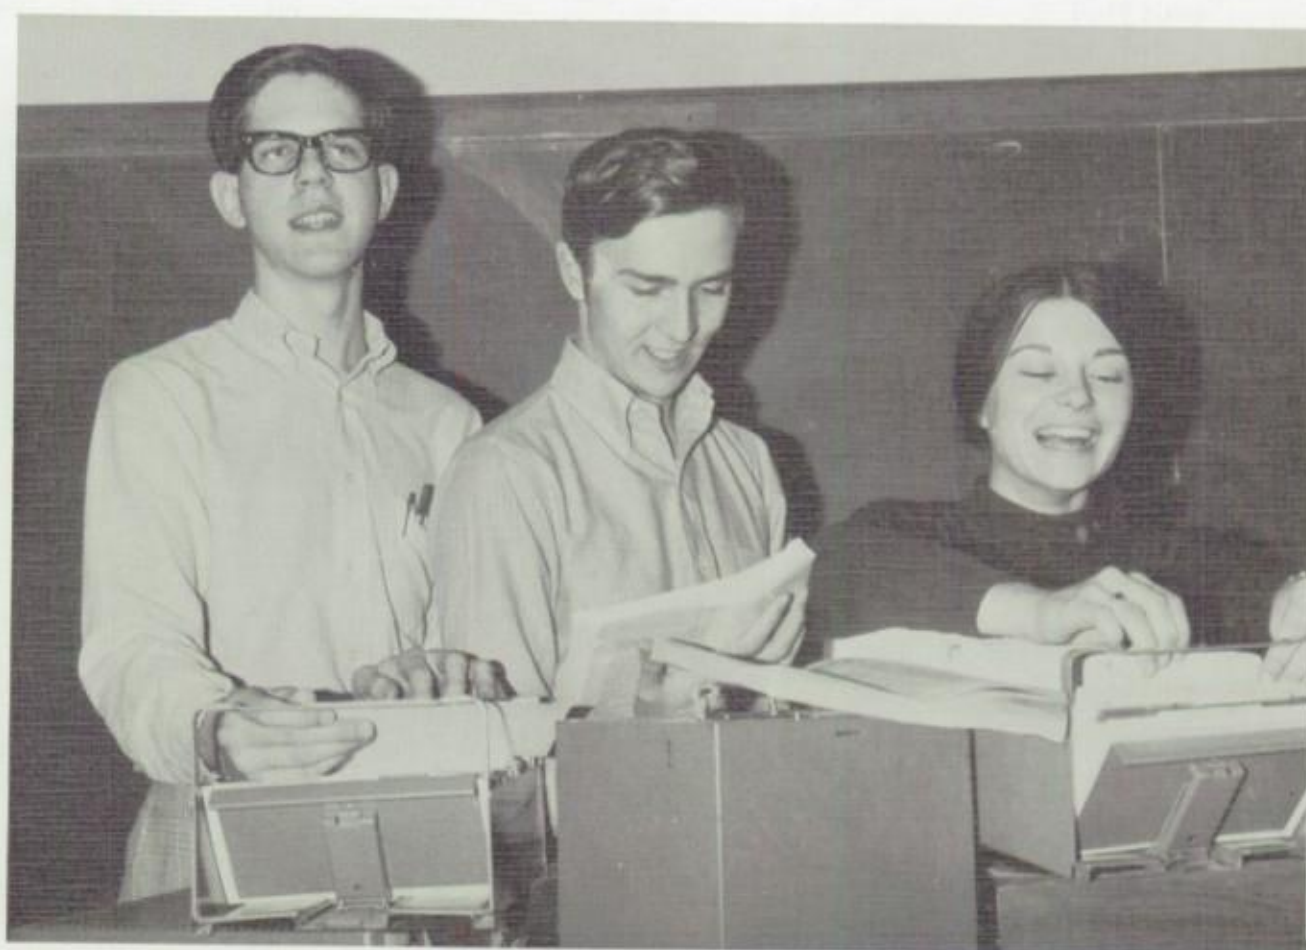

Tutoring, valentines, and scholarships are among the varied projects carried out by the Orange and Black Chapter of the National Honor Society. Members are selected as tutors by advisors from the different departments and are given assignments through Mr. Bidwell, the guidance advisor. Other advisors are Mr. Rizzi, Mrs. Welsh, Mr. Weber, Mr. Keuthe, Mr. Brecheisen and Mr. Bush. Money raised by the sale of valentines is used to finance the Robert Schroeder Memorial Scholarship, given annually, and the National Honor Society Scholarship, presented every other year. (below) Officers: Pete Williams, president; Carla Hawley, vice-president; Karen Norgaard, secretary; and Dave Weishaar, treasurer; relax after a busy year. (right) Ken Marken is this year's recipient of the Schroeder Scholarship. Senior members are: Mary Alspach, Janet Anderson, Kristy Anderson, Becky Asbridge, Bob Baker, Ann Becker, Barbie Byram, Craig Chidley, Cindy Crouch, Craig Diehl, Paul Dona, Sam Duletsky, Danna Ellett, Collette Ferguson, Cindy Flynn, Frank Fraker, David Gillum, Carla Hawley, Nancy Herring, Tony Hjelmstad, Connie Jenkins, Janet Keim, Kathy Kelly, Peggy Knittel, Dave Kubichek, Karen Lack, Dave Lindroos, Mikie Lorfing, Ken Marken, Jerel McCrary, John McMahon, Dale McNeely, Laura McNicholas, Kathleen Mixa, Nancy Moore, Leslie Moorman, Marilyn Muller, Susan Mullinnix, Joe Muratore, Karen Norgaard, Genny O'Keefe, Janet Pearce, Mike Schmehl, Gregg Smith, Joel Smith, Gail Stewart, Cindy Taylor, Marsha Teague, Cheryl Todd, Jim Traylor, Thomas Ward, Dave Weishaar, Pete Williams, and Greg Wilson.

Files And Folders Are Mark Of National Forensics League

Speech competition for the year of 1969-1970 began in October and ran through June for the N.C.H.S. Speech team. The team racked up many honors at tournaments in Colorado, Montana, South Dakota and Wyoming, as evidenced in the squad of four people who qualified to go to the national tournament: Pete Williams in Boy's Extemp, Sheila McIlnay in Girl's Extemp, and Bruce Shannon and Joe Shichich in debate. Coached by the forensics teacher, Mr. William Thompson, the N.C.H.S. forensics squad placed second in the State Tournament. (bottom) Members of NFL display a few of the trophies they have brought home. (lower left) Bruce Shannon enjoys the picnic held each year as a farewell to senior members. Rehearsals, Costumes And Props

All In Life Of Thespians

Attending rehearsals, making costumes, constructing sets, and gathering props are among the many activities of Thespian Troupe #1. The ten points required for membership can be acquired not only through these activities, but also by selling tickets, helping with publicity, and performing with the musical groups. Sponsored by Mr. Welsh and Mr. Brecheisen, the Thespians produced "Don't Drink the Water," by Woody Allen and the "Music Man," by Meredith Wilson, in addition to working on make-up, stage crews, costuming, and stage construction for the Junior Follies. During the annual Spotlight Dinner, awards based on the oscar awards were presented to members in recognition of their effort and achievement. A special award for service as the theatre photographer for three years was presented to Pete Williams. (far right) Gregg Smith embraces a very excited Jean Hamman after she received the award for Best Actress. Runner-up for the award was Dana Bloss. Inkslingers Honor Journalists

Improving high school publications through applied practice is the goal of International Quill and Scroll. The club's participants are members of the newspaper staff, the yearbook staff, and the literary magazine staff. Quill and Scroll is sponsored by Mrs. Anne Wade. (upper left) Officers of Quill and Scroll (Pete Williams, president; Sandi Carlson, vice-president; and Nancy Herring, secretary) demonstrate photo-cropping techniques. Future Teachers Explore Facets Of Learning

For the first time in several years the state convention of the Future Teachers of America was hosted by N.C.H.S. During this meeting Scott Hunt was elected state president. (top) Chapter members enjoy the lab facilities before a meeting. Artists Contribute To Beauty Of NCHS

Studio 51 is a guild organized to prepare aspiring NCHS artists for the many contests and projects in which they participate. The studio meets every Saturday morning to work on projects such as the new bird-bath for the outer court, silk-screen posters for the plays and Christmas decorations.

Mike Brown and Lee Llewellyn won first and second place honors in the "Hallmark Federation Women's Club Contest." Mike won first place honors in the city and state and Lee followed behind with a second in city and state.

FFA Builds Future In Agriculture

Vocational Agriculture covers many varied aspects of work, and the Future Farmers of America play an important part in the organization and implementation of associated activities. Leadership, public speaking, citizenship and patriotism are developed through their educational activities. This is a national organization which prepares young men for a career in agriculture and a place in the community. (above) Jackie Allen expresses her appreciation at being elected FFA sweetheart. Foreign Language Clubs Keep Busy

Foreign Language clubs at N.C.H.S. are organized to go beyond what can be learned in the classroom, so that the members might become acquainted with customs and cultures. (Upper left) The French Club officers are Marsha Teague, Doug Carr, and Kathy Boland. (Upper right) Mike Sanchez, Holly Nye, Cathy Haass, Mrs. Minear, Ruthann Pierce, and Rebecca Reeder work on the Spanish cookbook. (Lower left) Dancing is one of the activities enjoyed by the members. Service Is Key To Key Club

"We build," is the motto of Key Club, a service organization whose purpose is to build leadership and contribute to the interests of the community. Under the faculty sponsorship of Mr. Grant Boyles, the Key Club provided Christmas gifts for needy families, collected for the Blue Envelope and Multiple Sclerosis drives, and helped in construction of the Driver Education Range. Members of the club volunteered to be "big brothers" to the children at the Day Care Center.

Key Clubbers downed the Jaycettes in an hilarious fund raising basketball game. Other noteworthy accomplishments were the first place title given to the Key Club scrapbook and the third place in the single service competition in the Rocky Mountain District. Gwen O'Connell was elected Key Club sweetheart, and officers for the 1969-1970 year were Joe Shickich, treasurer; Dan Perdue, vice-president; Joe Major, president; and Ron Harris, secretary.

Fund Drives, Garage Sale, And Basketball Are Highlights Of Year

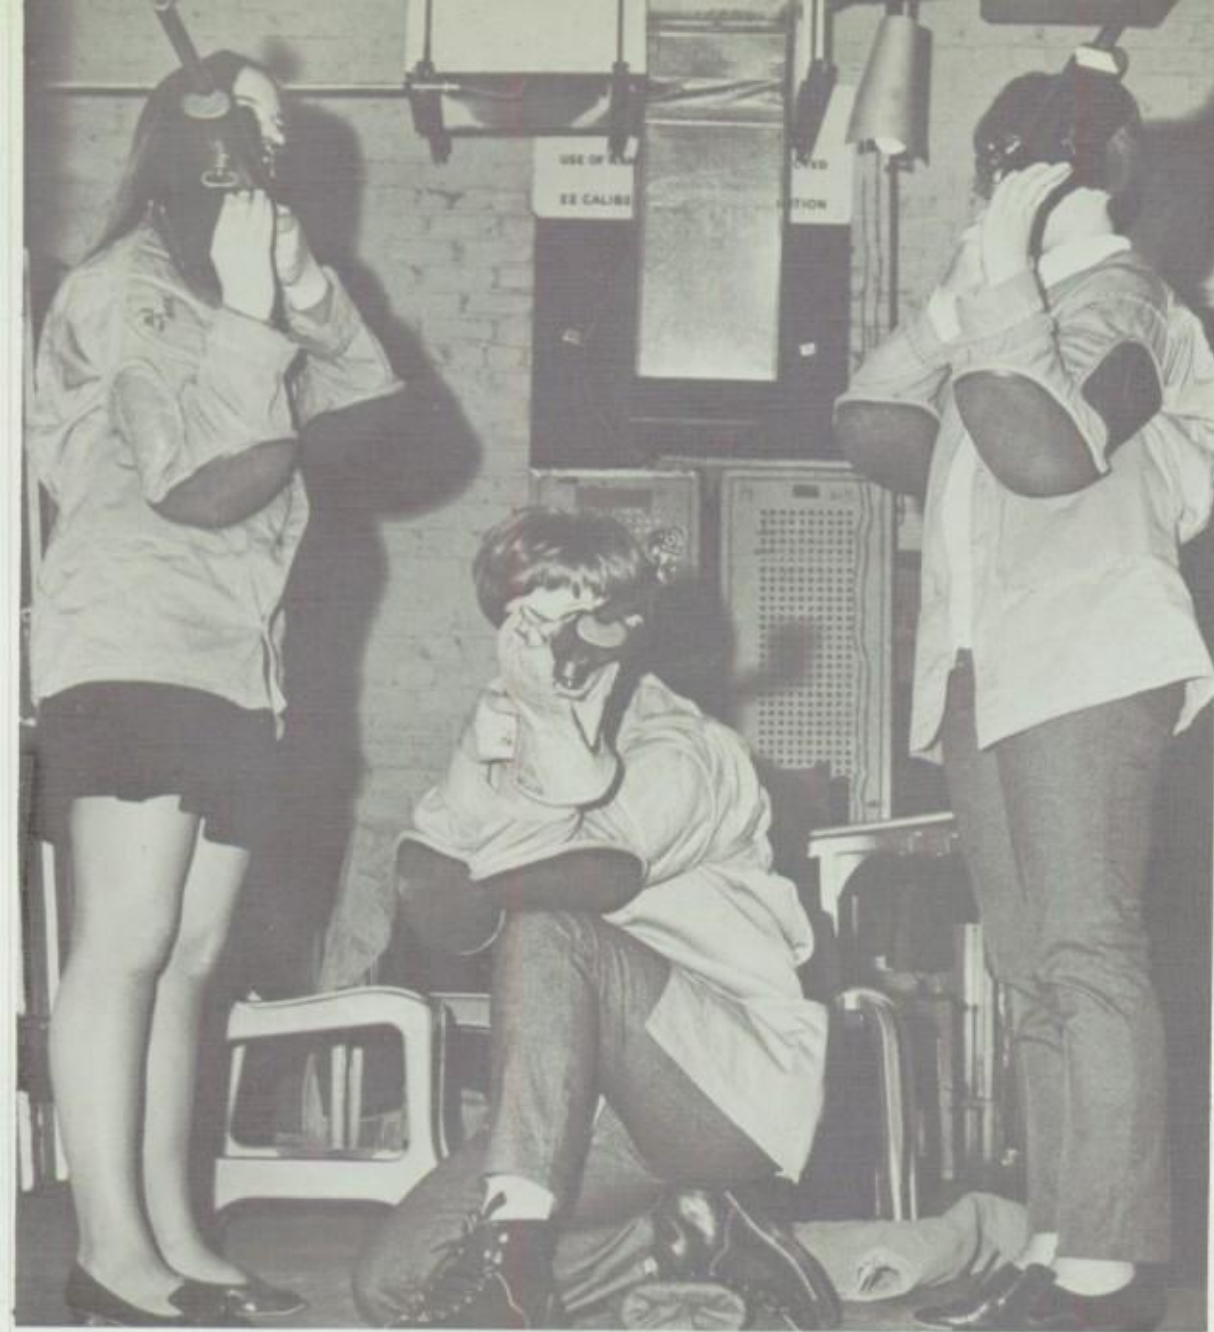

Jaycettes, a service organization sponsored by the Jaycees, experienced only one defeat this year - the basketball game against the Key Club. (They collected all the ticket profit, though). Other projects included drives for the United Fund, Arthritis Fund, Multiple Sclerosis Fund, acting as disc jockies for KATI radio days, helping at Natrona Lodge, having parties for the younger children at the State Children's Home, taking the Woods' School children sledding and to the basketball games, a garage sale whose proceeds went to the Boy's Ranch, and selling suckers for the football game against K.W. Officers for the 1969-1970 year were: (back) Karen Norgaard, internal vice-president; Susan Schwartz, president; (front) Kathy Sullins, secretary; and Renee Neithammer, external vice-president.

Careers In Medical Fields Investigated By Health Careers Club

Health Careers Club provides opportunities for students wishing to pursue a career in the medical field and contribute to the fight against serious diseases. Among the varied activities of this year's club were trips to a local funeral home and to the State Hospital at Evanston and a fund-raising project conducted at the novice invitational speech meet. (right) Members ready their concession stand to greet customers. (below) Mrs. Johnson prepares her group for an educational experience, the field trip to the state hospital.

Marksman Score First

Months of hard work paid off as the NCHS rifle team brought home the state championship for the second consecutive year. Arnie Sybrant, as captain of the boys' team, and Valerie Scherling, captain of the Mis-Fires, were instrumental in leading their combined teams to the state crown. Those earning individual "firsts" were Valerie Scherling, Arnie Sybrant, Dallas Chopping, and Larry Greene. Both teams are sponsored by the ROTC Department and coached by 1/Sgt. Calvin Watson. (left) Mis-Fires, Meredith Dunlap, Valerie Scherling, and Cindy Alexander "sight-in" on the rifle range. (lower left) Members of the winning team include Bruce Lanouette, Scott Danielson, Valerie Scherling, Arnie Sybrant, Bill Johnson, Larry Greene, and Dallas Chopping. (lower right) Sergeant Watson is astonished at the score compiled by Valerie Scherling.

In Passing . . .

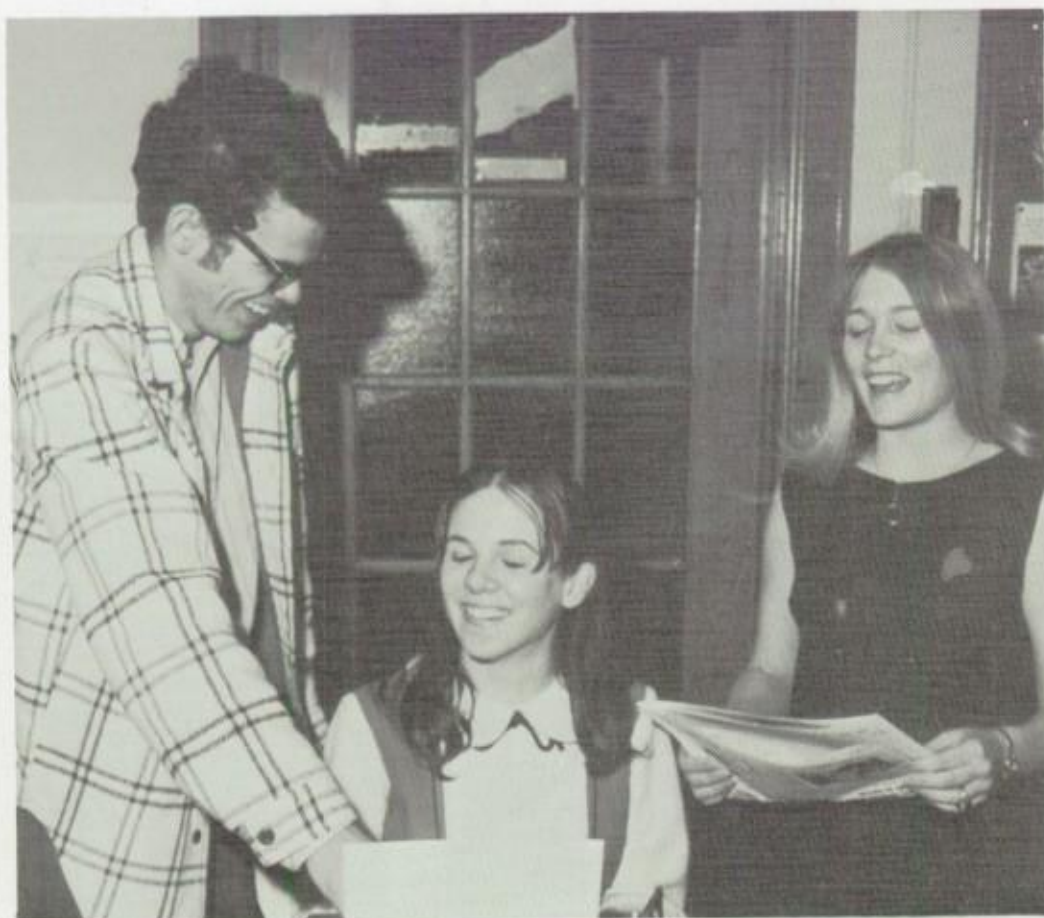

Yet Changes Will Come

"In Passing," NCHS literary magazine, publishes the best creative literary work submitted by students. Under the capable management of Editor Mike Brown, the magazine staff worked diligently to meet the March 1 deadline. Art students of Mr. Trimble's classes helped with art work. (Left) Sandi Carlson, head typist, frantically pounds the keys in effort to meet deadline. (Above) Bruce Bates, Mary'n Hallock, assistant editor, and Meredith Dunlap, poetry editor, look over material submitted for the magazine.

Gusher Wins All-State Honors

"Mrs. Wade, you must meet the deadline!" "But Mr. McAuley, I can't meet it!"

Long hours and hard work paid off for the Gusher staff when the newspaper was named the all-state paper for the 1969-1970 school year. Students in beginning and advanced journalism classes put out the newspaper, and operated a newsroom utilizing a UPI machine, a video tape machine, and television and radio equipment as a means of gaining practical experience.

NCHS Orchestra

Spring is the busiest season for the orchestra at NCHS. A spring concert was given in April, and later, the spring musical was presented in conjunction with the NCHS players. During May, the District Music Festival was held, at which the orchestra received a one rating.

A special event this year at NCHS was the combined choir and orchestra Christmas concert, which featured selections from Handel's "Messiah". The "Overture" and "The Pastoral Symphony" were done by the orchestra, while "Glory to God", "For Unto Us a Child is Born," and "The Hallelujah Chorus" were included in the selections presented by the mixed choir and orchestra.

Pepsters Possess Pzazz

Representing NCHS' school spirit, the Pepsters enthusiastically performed at football and basketball games during the year. Accompanied by the NCHS band, they did dance routines to the school song, and such songs as "2001: A Space Odyssey" and the "Mustang Fight Song" which was written by NCHS' vocal music director, Wayne McIntyre. (above) Jane Winn, Cindy Grenier, Suzanne Emery, Janis Adams, Nancy Edwards, and Marsha Teague relax during a practice. "C" Club Banquet Honors Athletes

Athletes of NCHS were honored at the annual "C" Club banquet when trophies were presented to outstanding football, basketball, track, golf, swimming, and tennis stars. Also honored was Miss Gwendolyn Hill, retiring chairman of the English department, who was at one time a grade school football, baseball, and track coach. Presenting her with a C Club plaque is Mike Prewitt, president of the club (left). (Below left) Blanket winners Ken Morgan, Jerry McIntyre, and Mark Mills earned seven letters in their high school careers. SPORTS

NCHS Nets First State Title Since '55

NCHS' basketball season ended with a state championship and a fantastic 22-1 record. Coached by Harvey Moore, the pre-season team (below) consisted of Rob Edwards, Jerry Shelsta, Andy Millikan, Dean Walker, Bob Baker, (kneeling) Marlon Mangus, Mike Prewitt, Ken Morgan, Millard Smathers, and Jerry McIntyre. (right) Coach Moore confers with Dean Walker, Rob Edwards, and Jerry McIntyre. Golf Team Swings State Championship

Coach Weishaar's state champion golf team upheld the NCHS tradition with another winning sweep of the State Golf Tournament held in the fall. Those chosen for the All State golf team were Rob Schneider (lower center), who placed second, Mike Lawson, fourth and Kent Scott (lower left), fifth. Other swingers on the state team were Bob Veylupek and Kirk Burgess. Since golf is a spring-fall sport, the golfers cannot play for the team the spring of their senior year. Seniors shown at right are: Rusty Ward, Mike Lawson, Don Perdue, Joe Major, and Dave Weishaar. At lower right Doug Weishaar, Kevin Shoemaker, Bill Scott and Byron Klungness are off to the next hole. Kneeling at top of page 201 are Rob Schneider, Bob Veylupek, Craig Burdette and Kirk Burgess. At lower left on page 201 Bob Peach, Kent Scott, Bruce Heisey, and Mark Williamson pause before teeing off, while Coach Weishaar (lower left) surveys his team.

Chidley Serves As State Champ

The NCHS tennis team, under the direction of Coach Mike Honker, finished their smashing season by taking third place in the state tournament held in Casper. Craig Chidley, senior letterman, captured the state singles championship, and the team of Dave Westling and Pat Murphy took third place in state double competition. (above left) Members of the team are: (back) Jim Murray, Pat Murphy, Chris Lensch, Joe Hallock, (front) Dave Lanning, Jim Van Dyke, Harris Emery, and Craig Chidley. (below left) Sophomore team members are: Pat Murphy, Butch Byram, Rob Roberts, and John Norgaard. (below right) Doubles champs Pat Murphy and Dave Westling relax after a rigorous practice session.

Skiers Schuss To Success

Coach Anker Larsen (upper left) and his staff, Mr. Bill Haines and Mr. Brian Hubley, led the NCHS ski team through a victory-filled season. The enthusiastic skiers began their training early in October and continued through March. Hard work was exchanged for trophies when the team traveled to meets in Laramie, Sheridan, Jackson, Bozeman, Mont., Terry Peak, South Dakota, Steam Boat Springs, Colo., Red Lodge, Mont., and a Giant Slalom Derby in Casper. Jon Gustafson (center left) was a tremendous asset to the team as the first sophomore to collect points in the expert division. Roger Holzinger (lower left) shows his form and daring. Althea Burgess and Paul Studer (upper right) discuss team standings after the first day at the Jackson state meet. Kathy Garberg (below) anxiously awaits Joe Womack's first run of the slalom at the state meet. Joe (below right) fell on the second run, but still placed a fantastic 8th. Team members were: Seniors, Ron Goodrich, Tom Perkins; Juniors, Kevin Andrea, David Ball, Ellen Barnhart, Kathy Garberg, Julie Lonenecker, Grace Robertson, Sandy Stroock, Paul Studer, Kevin Sulley, Joe Womack, Gary Weadock; Sophomores, Althea Burgess, Steve Caperton, and Dave Faulkner.

Pat Bisiar's track men completed the season with a disappointing finish in the state meet, but pole vaulter Greg Hill set a new state record, and the Mustangs are confident about their future chances.

Girls' Basketball Team Undefeated

For the first time in many years, the girls of NCHS formed a basketball team. Coached by Miss Rippon, the girls had an undefeated season. The tri-captains were Diann Darnall, Janet Keim, and Merry Johnson, with Janet Keim as high scorer. The opponents of the victorious six were Kelly Walsh, Douglas, Buffalo, and Rawlins. (Top left) Diann Darnall reaches for the ball during a tense game against Kelly Walsh. (Top right) Team members stop to regroup at quarter. (above) Miss Rippon gives a word of advice to the girls at time out. Swimmers Show Speed And Style

Coached by Mrs. Charlene Phillips, the NCHS Girls' Swim Team finished their season with a third place in state competition. (Top) Mermaids smile as they head for a third place berth at state. (Top row) Emily Shaw, Bobbie Heaton, Charlene Beatty, Peggy Lindblom, Laura Charron, and Barbara Johnson; (middle row) Luann Duletsky, Patty Tobin, Kim Gutz, Callie West, Jean Wilson, Raelynn Whitman, Carol Tenny; (front row) Kerdie Hawks, Jamie Paxton, Kim Harbison, Mrs. Phillips, Cindy Jones, Laurie Winslow, and Debbie Brannan.

Girl swimmers also participated in the annual synchronized swimming show, whose theme this year was "Crystal Blue Persuasion."

Beman's Splashers Undaunted By Injuries

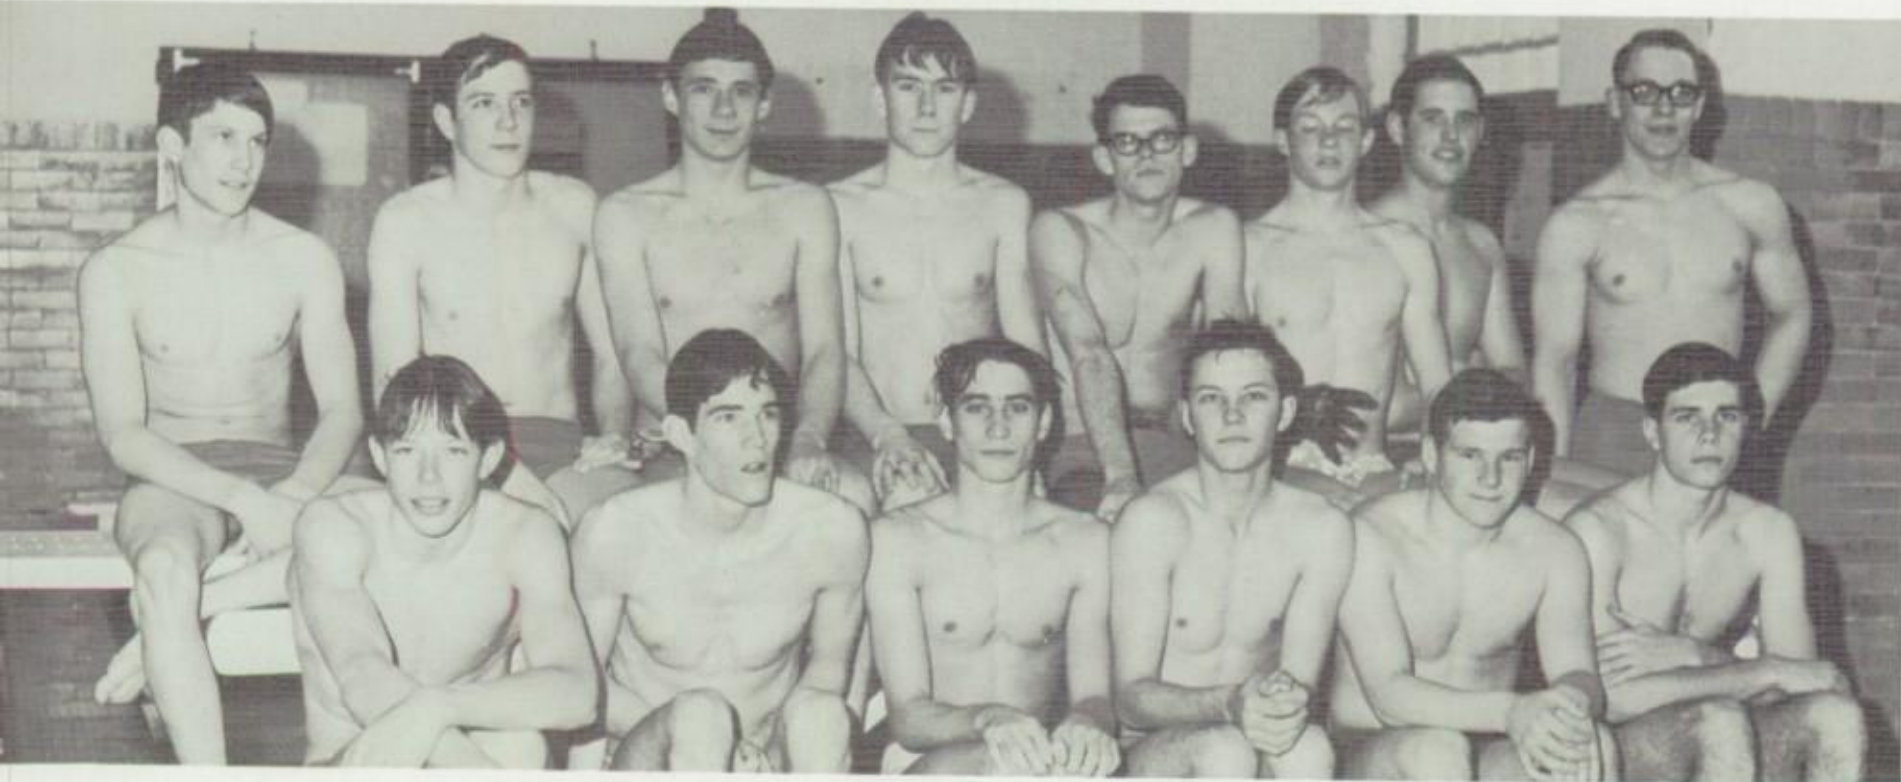

Broken arms and torn ligaments plagued the swim team this year, but from the determination and the concentration of effort many honors were won by the team. N.C. swimmers competed against Laramie, a chief adversary, Thermopolis, Cheyenne Central and Cheyenne East; cross-town rival, Kelly Walsh, Sheridan, and Riverton with considerable success. In addition to individual victories at the state meet, the win over the girl's swim team was a major highlight of the year. (above) Bill Lemmers starts his trip to victory over a K.W. opponent. SPRING ACTIVITIES

"Don't Drink The Water" Means ...

Director John Welsh's 1970 winter production, "Don't Drink the Water," provided light, contemporary comedy which brought delighted laughter all three performances. (right) Superior Cadet Awards were received by LTC Richard Moler, 1LT Steve Irwin, and SSG William Hjelmstad. (below) Maj. Dale Hallock, recipient of the Best Drilled Senior Cadet award, and Maj. John Lattea, Commander of the Best Overall Company, await their respective awards. (below, right) Named Distinguished Cadets were Col. Scott Oberlander, 1LT Gordon Box, and SSG Kenneth Dryden.

Promotions Highlight Military Ball

Casper's Ramada Inn was the setting of this year's Military Ball on April 10, 1970. The NCHS Stage Band played for the first half of the ball, while Hymie played rock music for the second half which was open to all students. Scott Oberlander (left, with Cathy Rochelle) was named Cadet Colonel, and Richard Moler, Steve Walsh, and Bruce Little were promoted to Lt. Colonel. (below) Steve Walsh receives his ensignia from his grandfather, S. K. Walsh and his wife. (bottom) The high-ranking cadets and their dates are: LTC Steve Walsh, Michiele Lowndes, Col. Scott Oberlander, Cathy Rochelle, LTC Richard Moler, Carol Olsen, LTC Bruce Little, and Coralee Skinner.

Music for the 1970 Junior-Senior Prom, held April 18 at the Ramada Inn, was provided by Arnolt and the Raspberries. In harmony with the theme the room was decorated to simulate the four seasons. Highlighting the evening was the crowning of Miss Genny O'Keefe by her escort, Pat Keefe. Attendants to the Queen were Kathy Tobin, Paula Williams, Gwen O'Connell, and Susan Mullinix.

Class Of '70 Attains Honors

Natrona County High School students garnered their share of awards in all fields of endeavor during the past year. (right) Selected as delegates to the American Legion's Wonderful Wyoming's Boy State were Jerel McCrary, Pete Williams, Dave Kubichek, Jerry Shelsta, and Dave Weishaar. Kubichek and Williams were winners in the mock elections for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and U.S. Representative, respectively.

For his accomplishments in the field of athletics, High School All-American Basketball Player, Ken Morgan, receives the outstanding athletes plaque from Mr. Bruce Brown. (below)

Expressions of gratification are evident as Janis Adams receives the Wilkerson Trophy for superior music student, and Lee Llewellyn is named the best senior band student.

Faculty Takes Pride In Their Students

On May 6, 1970, participants in the school awards assembly were presented awards for excellence by the various departments of the school. The Schroeder Trophy for Outstanding Debator and the Deffeyes Trophy for N.F.L. point leader went to Pete Williams; the McCann Trophy for most improved speaker went to Jerel McCrary. (below) Merit finalists relax outside after filling out forms and taking tests in competition. They are: Kathleen Mixa, Cindy Flynn, Carla Hawley, Joe Muratore and Craig Diehl.

"Today Is The First Day Of The Rest Of Your Life"

Community service was the forte of the class of 538 seniors who graduated May 26, 1970, in the NCHS stadium. By choice of the class of '70, commencement addresses were given by four fellow seniors. Presiding as master of ceremonies was student body president, Mark Mills, who presented the theme of the evening, "Today is the first day of the rest of your lives." "Mind Pollution" was the topic of the first speech given by Ken Marken. He encouraged class mates to make their own decisions in life, and not to allow themselves to be molded by society's prejudices. Susan Mullinnix followed with the advice, "Begin at the beginning and go until you reach the end; then stop," in her speech, "Great Expectations". Speaking of "gaposis," Pete Williams, in "Bridging the Gap," cautioned his peers against over emphasizing a fictitious generation gap. Final speaker, Barbie Byram, challenged her audience to take positive action on pressing problems of the world, instead of running away from them. "Walk, Don't Run," was the title of her speech. The class was presented by Maurice F. Griffith, superintendent of schools, and diplomas were conferred by Thaddeus H. Walker, president of the school board; William D. Reese, principal; and Robert J. Bush, senior vice-principal. Under the direction of Mr. Alexander, the band played the processional, "Pomp and Circumstance" and "Recessional" by Plothar. Commencement speakers were: Pete Williams, Barbie Byram, Susan Mullinnix, Mark Mills, and Ken Marken.
